—That Miss-understanding down on River street last night was not a labor strike; nor was it anything akin to what is known in matters of political economy as union and non-union antagonism Nor was it anything like a riot, as has been reported. It was, though, something of a row, resulting from an every day sort of a plain drunk, in which the male and female population, especially the latter, do not often indulge here in Dixon, we are glad to state. One of our night patrol said: "By George, it was lively, though, for a short time."

GRAND MASQUERADE BALL.

The opera house last evening held a brilliant and joyous throng on the occasion of the masquerade ball given by the running team of the Monitor Hook and Ladder Company of this city.

The object of the party was to raise a fund to defray the expenses of the team to attend the coming state tournament next summer. The boys are cherishing a worthy ambition that they will bring home on that occasion trophies that will add to their honors and advertise our city. The Dixon Fire Department at one time held the championship of the state; but of late years has made no effort to retain it. Our people will encourage the renewal of a commendable ambition on the part of our young men; and they will doubtless be given opportunity to exertise their disposition in that direction, for although there was a generous attendance at the ball last evening, the expenses were so heavy as to eat up a large share of the receipts.

The guests in the gallery looked down upon a gay and mostley company as the Henderson orchestra swelled out the first notes of the opening grand march. The reception committe had been making it pleasant for all concerned, and as the verberant air pulsated with music, the gentlemen sought their lady partners, all who could do so found positions in the various sets and "the dance was on."

At eleven o'clock the masquers unmasked and after a brief recess festivities were resumed till a later hour, when all retired, somewhat tired perhaps but pleasurably so. Following is a list of the dancers and costumes:

Miss Minnie Bothie, dusting girl; Miss Fannie Trainer, dusting girl; Mrs J B. Derr, Mexican; Elvina Bothe school girl; Nellie Allwood, school girl; Mrs. Mary Giddings, school girl; Cora Chiverton, school girl; Lora May, sailor; Grace Cropsey, Empire; Grace Keith, Empire; Carrie Mumma, ghost; Nellie Stanbrough, Empire; Jessie Thomas, Red Ridding-hood; Miss Ledig, gypsy; Addie Jones, gypsy; Sadie Farley, school girl; Mary Kearns, school girl, Ella Reeder, gypsy queen; Ina Petit, flower girl; Alice Petit, fancy dress; Mrs. Z Hanna, snail; Margaret Kelly, school girl; Army Woodyat, school girl; Verie Whitebread, school girl; Lizzie Kaiser, fancy dress; Emma Huggins, Red Ridding-hood; Jennie Huggins, Red Ridding-hood; Maggie Kanzler, jockey; Anna Kanzler, ballot dancer; Ella Burdick, flower girl; Emma Burdick, flower girl; Marguerite Freebury, sun-flower; Nellie Doly, school girl; Nellie Boucher, twin sailor; Kate McBride, twin sailor; Lizzie Lawernce, fancy; Fannie Martin, fancy dress; Nina Elgen, fancy dress; Sarah Laskowski, school girl; Julia Hangs, fancy dress; Delia Putnam, school girl; Addie Upsnon, school girl; Bell Sears party dress; Hiram Rohrbeck, jocky; Henry Morey, Brown & Co.; Jim Donlan The Plymouth; Will Dauntler, labor; F. —Captain Rollins has ladders placed for painting the large smoke-stack at the new electric light plant. The fierce wind today keeps him down, and on a calm day but few men would care to climb that high.

—The spattering of blood up the steps leading to Drs. Vaughn & Kost's office this morning, came from Walter Preston, driver for Ed. Smith. The young man was pressing a cork into a bottle when the bottle broke, cutting his hand severely and the gash had to be sewed up.

—The Rector of "St. Luke's" will be at the church vestry Friday, April 7th, from 2 to 3 in the afternoon, also from 7 to 8 in the evening for the purpose of meeting any persons who are thinking of being "confirmed" at the approaching visit of the Bishop, April 18th.

—The Hamilton town officers selected are: Town Clerk, G W. Snader; Assessor James P. Dunn; Collector, Jerry Sullivan; Commissioner of Highways, Wallace Bass; Constables, Jacob Snader, sr., and Henry Roark; Justice of Peace, Jacob Bauer and J. L Reed; School Trustee, Dennis Foley.

—The election at Lee Centre, Tuesday resulted in the choice of the following officers: Town Clerk, Sherman L. Shaw; Assessor, George L. Richardson; Collector, James E. Gray; Commissioner of Highways, Fred B. Clapp; Commissioner to fill vacancy, J. Giles Hodges; Constables, D. M. Sawyer and Wm. G Willey; Justice of Peace, R. Gooch and A. Z. Bodine; School Trustees, Joseph Ayres and J Giles Hodges

—In the April Arena the cause of the Chinaman is upheld in an interesting sketch by Allan Forman on "Celestial Gotham," and the negro finds a strong champion in the editor, who discusses the recent Paris tragedy in a paper in which Mr. Flower seeks to be just to both white and black, while he points out the injustice and the evil consequence bound to follow lawlessness. It is an earnest thoughtful and most telling presentation of the subject, reaching to its deepest recesses. Hamlin Garland has a brilliant paper on "The Future of Fiction in America," Dr. Alfred Russell Wallace, W. D. McCrackan, Eva McDonald Valesh, Chester A. Reed and Victor Yarros discuss social and economic problems. Psychical Research is represented by B. F. Underwood, who writes on "Automatic Writing;" and Metaphysical thought finds an able exponent in Katharine Coolidg. There are many other papers of interest in this issue.

Democrcy of South Carolina Fails to Harmonize.

HOSTILES MEET IN BISSELL'S OFFICE

Angry Exchange Remarks That Are Not at All Affectionate—Report That Eckels' Nomination Was an Inadvertence—Stevenson's Cousin Gets a Diplomatic Position—Judge Lochren for Pension Commissioner—Palmer Gets Off a Joke in the Senate — Adjournment Expected Soon—Reciprocity Doomed.

WASHINGTON, April 6.—There was a lively meeting lasting two hours and three quarters last evening in the office of Postmaster General Bissell between the two factions of the South Coralina Democracy. Senator Irby and Representatives Latimer, Talbert, Shell and Strait were present representing the Tillmanites, and Senator Butler and ex-Representatives Johnston and Hemphill the Conservatives. The feeling ran high and some tart passages were exchanged between them, of which the climax came when, after Johnston had denied some of Irby's statements, the latter responded that he was responsible for anything he might say at the conference. The meeting started out by Senator Irby stating that he had it on authority (which he named) that Senator Butler came there with a stick in his hand and a pistol in his pocket. Butler denied this allegation absolutely.

Didn't Get on Well Together.

Each side presented its case, the Tillmanites claiming that they represented the Democratic party of South Carolina and the Conservatives declaring the Tillmanites were Alliance men and not Democrats. Postmaster General Bissell had said that he would hear Senator Irby. The latter replied that he would wait on the senior senator, to which Butler retorted that unless Irby was running the meeting he would submit to no dictation at his hands and was tired of his insolence, and there were equally sharp passages between Strait and Butler. Postmaster Bissell during the hearing laid down the policy of himself. He said that the department would not regard the recommendation of a senator or representative as conclusive, but merely presumptive in favor of the man endorsed, so long as he was at the head of the postoffice department.

That Eckels Nomination.

The nomination of Eckels to be comptroller of the currency has not been reported to the senate, but is still in the hands of a sub-committee of the committee on finance. In view of the fact that neither the comptroller of the currency nor the gentleman selected as deputy comptroller of the currency—Tucker—has had any previous experience in the management of financial affairs the committee is inclined to believe that the prevailing rumor as to Eckels' selection for this position being an inadvertence is well founded, and it is understood that the attention of the president will be brought to this particular case by members of the committee through representations made to the head of the treasury department.

ANOTHER MINISTER NOMINATED.

James S. Ewing, of Illinois, to Go to the Belgian Capital.

The men who were given public office yesterday, so far as the president could do it were: James S. Ewing, of Illinois, minister to Belgium; Thomas T. Crittenden, of Missouri, consul general at the City of Mexico; Louis C. Hughes, of Arizona, governor of Arizona; William T. Thornton, of New Mexico, governor of New Mexico; William M. Maize, of Ohio, surveyer of customs for the port of Columbus, O.

Ewing is the law partner and cousin of Vice President Stevenson; Crittenden is ex-governor of Missouri, and the man who hunted Jesse James to his death.

Sarcasm Made 'Em Restless.

For a short time yesterday it was impossible for newspaper men to get the usual list of appointments to fourth-class postoffices. The matter caused a good deal of comment at the department and it leaked out that the cause of this policy of secrecy was the restiveness of the president and the postmaster general under the numerous or sarcastic comments of paragraphers and headline editors on the newspapers on "The Working of Maxwell's Guillotine, etc." It was therefore resolved to cut off the source of information, but later in the day Postmaster General Bissel rescinded the order. The list showed about 134 fourth-class postmasters appointed.

The Next Pension Commissioner.

It is reported as on the authority of Senator Palmer, charman of the senate pensions committee, that General Raum's successor had been selected and that the lucky man would go to the senate within forty-eight hours. Further than this Senator Palmer would not say, but he intimated that the appointee would be from the north. From this hint it is believed that there is a good foundation for the report that Judge William Lochren, of Minneapolis, has been selected. Additional importance is given the rumor by the fact that Judge Lochren called at the White House yesterday morning.

Confirmed by the Senate.

The senate has confirmed the following nominations: William H. Seaman, of Wisconsin, to be United States district judge for the eastern district of Wisconsin; Ezra W. Miller, of South Dakota, to be attorney of the United States for the district of South Dakota: Felix A. Reeves, of Tennessee, to be solicitor of the treasury; Herman Stump, of Maryland, to be superintendent of immigration.

REMINDED HIM OF A STORY

Palmer Raises a Laugh Among the Solemn Senators—Tiring of the Session.

WASHINGTON, April 6.—The noticeable thing about the senate yesterday was the large array of vacant seats, a considerable number of the senators having gone home and others finding the debate on the question on the power of governors to appoint senators when the legislators fail to elect too dreary to keep them in the chamber. Chandler spoke in favor of the majority report recommending the seating of the appointed senators and was replied to by Senator Palmer, Chandler had pleaded for a broad and liberal construction of the constitution, and having ridiculed the minority's position as a technical and narrow construction Palmer in reply said the fathers of the constitution had adopted what the senator called a narrow and illiberal construction, but he (Chandler), their wiser son, had found another method better than theirs.

Knew a Better Doctrine.

The senator's discovery reminded him of a Calvinistic preacher, who, on a certain occasion, said to his congregation: "My brethren, there is a man going up and down through the country preaching that all men can be saved. Thank God, we teach better than this." [Laughter.]

The senate is now awaiting notification from the president that he no longer requires its presence before adjourning its special session. There is no life in the debate and there is an undestanding amounting to substantially the same thing as an agreement that neither the question of the power of the governors to appoint senators nor the proposed Roach investigation will be pushed to a vote at this session.

Proceedings in the Senate.

WASHINGTON, April 6.—There were two speeches made in the senate yesterday on the question of the admission of the senators appointed by governors. Chandler contended for a broad and liberal construction of the clause of the constitutirn bearing on the subject, while Palmer stood for strict construction. Chandler revived the Roach incident by a resolution calling on the treasury for copies of the reports of the Citizens' Bank of Washington from 1875 to 1882 and of bank examiners on its condition. The resolution went over on the objection of Gorman.

Will Repudiate Reciprocity.

WASHINGTON, April 6.—It is reported on good authority that Secretary Gresham has advised the president to revoke President Harrison's action which prohibited Venezuela and Hayti sending in their sugar and coffee free of duty. This action by President Harrison was taken because those nations refused to make any reciprocal arrangements when the sugar duty was removed. It is believed that the president will follow Gresham's advice and that this action will prove the beginning of the end of reciprocity.

Marriage in Official Life.

WASHINGTON, April 6.—Roy Jones, son of Senator Jones, of Nevada, and Miss Pauline Williamson, daughter of General James A. Williamson, were married at St. John's Episcopal church yesterday in the presence of a large gathering of people well known in Washington society. The young couple will live on Senator Jones' 30,000-acre ranch in California, of which the groom is manager.

Gives His Stepdad a Heap of Trouble.

WASHINGTON, April 6.—Harry Martin, a stepson of Senator Vance, of North Carolina, attempted to commit suicide last night because of a trouble with some girl. He is the young man who figured in the courts some time ago for attempting one night to break into the White House during the Harrison administration when under the influence of liquor.

Martial Law for the Choctaws.

WASHINGTON, April 6.—Secretary Hoke Smith has received a telegram from Indian Agent Bennett in which he recommends that the Choctaw nation be placed under martial law. This he believes to be the only way in which peace can be maintained. Secretary Smith has as yet taken no action on this recommendation.

Twenty-Five Pension Employes Dropped.

WASHINGTON, April 6.—On the recommendation of the second assistant secretary, who made an investigation as to their efficiency, twenty-five special examiners in the pension bureau were yesterday dropped from the rolls. Their places will remain vacant for some time at least.

An Appeal for the Timber.

WASHINGTON, April 6.—The executive committee of the American Forestry association, through B. F. Fernow, chairman, has sent to Hon. Hoke Smith an earnest appeal not to grant permits for extended periods to cut timber over selected areas of the public lands.

Peace Bureau at the Fair.

WASHINGTON, April 6.—Mrs. Belva A. Lockwood has been commissioned by the International Peace bureau at Berne to open and conduct a branch bureau during the World's fair and report to the European peace congress at its session in September, 1893.

The Martin Case Will Go Over.

WASHINGTON, April 6.—Senator Vance, chairman of the senate committee on privileges and elections, stated yesterday that nothing would be done this session in the matter of the contest for the seat of Martin, the senator from Kansas.

Official Notes.

The Post says that it is understood that the nomination of General E. S. Bragg, of Wisconsin, to be minister to Brazil will be sent to the senate this week.

The impression among those who are making it their business to find out, and also who are his friends, is that Frank Lawler will get the Chicago postoffice.

Secretary Carlisle has appointed Al Carlisle, of Salem, O., inspector of furniture for the treasury department, vice Henry L. Swords, resigned. The place pays $3,000 a year and traveling expenses. He is no relative of the secretary.

SWEAT SHOP BILL PASSED.

The Illinois Senate Votes in Favor of Inspection—House Doings.

SPRINGFIELD, April 6.—The senate yesterday ordered the bill to allow cities and towns to maintain electric plants back to second reading for an amendment requiring a vote on the subject by the people of the city or town. The bill was then made special order for Tuesday next. The bill requiring inspection, etc., of "sweat shops" was passed without dissent. A number of bills were introduced and the senate adjourned.

Two Sessions a Day in the House.

In the house notice was given of a rule requiring two sessions a day. An attempt to make the "$5,000 limit bill," relating to damages against railways for loss of life, a special order for Tuesday next was defeated. A motion was carried to proceed to read all senate bills a first time, and several were so read. The valued policy bill was sent to the insurance committee, when it was recalled and sent to second reading. It acquires all fire insurance companies to pay full value of policy in case of total loss.

BANCROFT'S VALUABLE BOOKS.

Congress Declines to Buy Them and They Go to the Lenox Library.

NEW YORK, April 6.—When the historian, George Bancroft, died his will ordered that the manuscripts relating to America and the rare books he had collected should be offered to congress at a price. They were offered for $75,000. The senate passed a bill, the house committee on library reported in its favor, but the house of representatives demurred. The manuscripts and volumes have just been bought by the Lenox library for $80,000. The collection embraces no less than 20,000 manuscripts, 14,000 volumes and 5,000 pamphlets.

HEATED REMARKS

Made by Phelps Before the Arbitration Court.

DEBATE GETS RATHER INTERESTING

The Senior American Counsel Intimates That John Bull Is Not Toting Fair, and Sir Charles Russell Makes a Spirited Reply—British Editorial Comment — An English Ruffian Attempts to Murder a Woman — Baffled by a Dog — O'Brien Praises the Irish Constabulary.

PARIS, April 6.—Before the arbitration court in the Behring sea case yesterday Phelps, counsel for the United States, continued his argument to show that the report of the Behring sea British commission should not be accepted as evidence by the board, as it had been completed in time to be properly offered by Great Britain. In support of this contention counsel quoted the correspondence between the English and American foreign offices, and cited certain passages of the treaty. Phelps' address was interrupted several times by an exchange of criticisms between the counsel for the powers. "If I had been guiding the policy of the United States," said Phelps, "when Great Britain presented the counter case at the last minute, I would then and there have refused to proceed with the arbitration. Great Britain's conduct was not only unjust, but deeply humiliating for the United States."

Something Phelps Didn't Know.

Sir Richard Webster interposed the remark that Great Britain had announced in her counter-case the production at a future date of the Behring sea commission report.

Phelps, continuing, said that he had not been aware of this. The whole report, he said, was untrustworthy, for although preliminary investigation had been made conjointly by the British and the American commissioners the reports had been neither answered nor commented upon by the United States. The British report contained moreover a large amount of hearsay arguments, conjectures and other matters quite unsuitable as evidence before the court.

Surprised at Phelps' Warmth.

Sir Charles Russel, in his reply, said that he had not expected such a discussion of the legal character of the evidence as that introduced by Phelps. He felt quite unprepared for this extraordinary heat on the part of the opposing counsel. He was extremely surprised that Great Britain should be charged with injustice in her conduct of the proceedings preliminary to the meeting of the court. There was no intention on the part of Great Britain to use the report of the Behring sea commission as bearing upon the question of right before the court.

Broader Than a Matter of Seals.

The counsel for the United States had attempted throughout the sittings of the tribunal to force this matter upon the commissioners as if only one question was before them. There were, however, other questions than those of right to be settled. The tribunal was dealing with the affairs of an open sea, in which there were involved other rights than those of Great Britain and the United States—namely, the rights of mankind. In the matter of Great Britain's and America's rights the arbitrators must act strictly as judges; in the matter of the rights of mankind they must acquit themselves as just men.

Russell then justified the production of the report of the Behring sea commission, arguing from the terms of the arbitration treaty between the United States and Great Britain. If, he said, the sole object of the report was to assist the tribunal to gain information as to the regulation of the seal fisheries and to increase its knowledge of the practical matters at issue, the report then must be admitted to evidence under the articles governing the procedure of the court of arbitration. Russell then read the article in question and the court adjourned.

LONDON PRESS CRITICISM.

The Editors Evidently Do Not Approve of Counsel Phelps.

LONDON, April 6.—The Daily Chronicle says: "The proceedings in the Behring sea court of arbitration do not promise well for an amicable solution of the question at issue. It is not, we imagine, in the power of the American counsel to render the arbitration abortive, but it seems only too clear that Mr. Phelps is disposed to give a narrow, partisan twist to the conduct of his case, and that he would not stop short at rendering the whole proceedings nugatory if he could not be sure of issuing from them on the winning side. If the Washington government was aware that he held such strongly biased opinions it is a pity that they did not entrust the case to a lawyer of less preconceived views."

Logic of Russel's Argument.

The Paris correspondent of The Daily News says: "In view of the great issues involved, Mr. Phelps seemed to attach undue importance to questions of mere procedure and to ignore the high international bearing of the case. Unquestionably he has great legal acumen. Sir Charles Russel did not say so in as many words, nor did he even suggest it, yet the inevitable logic of his argument forced the conclusion upon the hearer's mind that the Baltic or the Mediterranean or the Red or the Black sea might each, according to the American theory, become as close as the Behring sea."

SAVED BY A FAITHFUL DOG.

He Rescues a Woman From the Assault of a Ruffian.

LEEDS, April 6.—Mrs. Purrill, the cook of the "Boarshead" tavern, was attacked by a man of the name of Rothery, who was in love with her and who entrapped her in a lonely room. He then drew a razor and attempted to cut her throat, exclaiming that he was tired of her carryings-on with other men. Mrs. Burrill struggled very hard to release herself. Then suddenly a black dog which had been lying asleep under the couch sprang upon Rothery and caught him by the coat sleeve. This compelled him to make an attempt to shake the animal off and while doing so he relaxed his hold upon the woman, who called for help.

The Miscreant Commits Suicide.

Rothery succeeded in releasing himself from the dog and once more rushed at the woman, razor in hand. At the moment he was about to strike her the dog leaped between the man and the woman and seized the fellow by the throat. Meanwhile the noise of the battle had been heard outside and the landlady of the place opened the door and dragged Mrs. Burrill from the room, closing the door behind her and thus shutting in the man with the dog. When the police broke into the room a few minutes later they found Rothery on the floor with his throat cut and dying. The dog was lying on the villain's chest watching him.

The New French Cabinet.

PARIS, April 6.—The new French cabinet so far as completed is as follows: M. Charles Dupuy, premier and minister of of the interior; Paul Louis Peytral, finance; Senator Eugene Guererin, justice; Raymond Poincarre, public instruction; Louis Terrerier, commerce; Admiral Rieunier, marine; Jules Develle, foreign affairs; Francois Viette, public works; General Loizillon, war; Albert Viger, agriculture. Parsian dailies unite in pronouncing the cabinet weak and mediocre.

Sixty Turkish Lives Lost.

CONSTANTINOPLE, via Vienna, April 6.—The steamer used by the sultan in connection with the palace for his own pleasure and to convey guests and members of his household foundered on Sunday. It is believed that sixty persons on board at the time perished by drowning, and that a splendid service of silver-plate used in the imperial dining room on the steamer went with the vessel. Details of the calamity are lacking.

Hard to Shut Out Nihilists.

VIENNA, April 6.—A telegram from St. Petersburg says: "As an indication of the nihilists' daring activity the czar recently found in one of the imperial albums a portrait of the nihilist who was executed for complicity in the assassination of his father. The strictest inquiry in the household failed to solve the mystery of its appearance there."

Peculiar Position for O'Brien.

COLK, April 6.—William O'Brien addressed his constituents last night under police protection. He referred to the constabulary as his best friend, and this armed force was subsequently instrumental in preventing trouble between the Parnellites and anti-Parnellites.

TRIPLE AND DEVILISH MURDER.

Forced Marriage and Attack on the Wedding Party—A Kentucky Item.

MORGANFIELD, Ky., April 6.—Miss Abbie Oliver, of Sturgis, Union county, Ky., as is alleged, was betrayed by Henry Delaney, a young drug clerk, about eight months ago. Delaney denied the charge, and refused to marry the girl. At 9 o'clock Tuesday night the girl's mother entered Delaney's place of business, and at the point of a pistol compelled him to go with her to a carriage outside in which her husband and daughter were seated. The quartette drove rapidly to Morganfield, fifteen miles distant, and at 3 o'clock yesterday morning a license was procured and Delaney forced to marry the girl.

Delaney Joins the Assailants.

The party started home in the carriage, but when they had driven about four miles four men surrounded the vehicle and began firing into it. The newly-wedded woman was shot through the head and died soon afterward. It was discovered that she was about to give birth to a child. Her father was shot through the face and in the right arm. At the first shot Delaney jumped from the carriage and joined the attacking party. Mrs. Oliver recognized the assailants and warrants for their arrest have been issued.

Oliver Will Also Die.

The indications are that Mr. Oliver will not live through the night. The physicians say that his injuries are necessarily fatal. Late yesterday afternoon George Henry and Frank Holt were arrested by the sheriff of Union county and identified by Mrs Oliver. Seven others were also arrested, but not being recognized were released. A brother of Henry is still at large. The Henry boys are cousins of the unwilling bridegroom. Delaney is of a most respectable family, but the sympathy of the community is largely with the Olivers.

CHICAGO COUNCIL REPUBLICAN.

Further Facts About the Election—Voting in Rhode Island—Notes.

CHICAGO, April 6.—The Republicans Tuesday elected a majority of the city council, which stands: Republicans, 38; Democrats, 27; Independent Democrats, 3. Mayor-elect Harrison said the Republican majority would be kept in check, as he would personally preside, to which the Republicans reply that the check business will work both ways, as they will be on hand themselves. Republicans carried Cicero, Jefferson and Hyde Park. They also defeated Crawford in the north division, the rest of the Democratic ticket there being elected.

Rhode Island Very Close.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., April 6.—In a considerably increased vote from last April there will be no election for general officers as a result of the battle of the ballots yesterday. It is believed that both Democratic candidates for congress have pluralities. With nine districts to hear from the vote is: Brown (Rep.), 18,641; Baker (Dem.), 18,324; Metcalf (Pro.), 2,845. No election possible. The assembly is in doubt. By-elections may be necessary to settle control of the legislature.

Municipal Election Notes.

Republican pluralities at St. Louis vary from 1,183 to 8,413, the Democratic auditor going in with 1,588. The council is Republican, but the house of delegates Democratic.

Reports from towns in Illinois, southern half, show that of forty-four towns heard from thirteen went Republican, twenty-three Democratic, seven mixed, and one (East St. Louis) elected a complete citizens' ticket.

In Missouri of twenty-nine towns so far heard from eight went Republican, fifteen Democratic, five divided allegiance and one (St. Joseph) tied its council.

Returns from forty-four of the large cities of Kansas show that the Republicans win in thirty-five instances, the Populists in four, the temperance question in four, while the straight-out Democrats were victorious only at Salina.

A Matter of Fact Dog.

There are prosaic men and women, and there are matter of fact dogs. For purely business purposes they are often the best.

We once owned an excellent retrieving spaniel of the simple order of mind, without a grain of humor. This dog accompanied us unasked when we wanted to shoot a bullfinch in the garden to stuff. The gun went off, and the poor bullfinch dropped.

Now, this dog had been used, when the gun was fired, to go and look for a dead or wounded rabbit. So, instead of looking under the apple tree, he disappeared into the hedge, and in a few minutes he returned with a rabbit in his mouth! So much for the value of a matter of fact dog.—London Spectator.

The First and Last Time.

On a sultry day in August an aged negro who gloried in the name of Pompey, was driving through Main street in Springfield, Mass., a poor old skeleton of a horse attached to a heavy load of wood.

By the most frantic efforts the horse had succeeded in dragging his load over an unusually high crossing when suddenly the poor animal stopped, reared in the air and fell dead on the street. Pompey stood for a moment in silent astonishment, with extended hands, pendent lip and bulging eyeballs, then exclaimed, "By gum! I nebber knowed him do dat afore!"—Cor. New York Press.

To Be Started on the Railway Labor Question.

ANN ARBOR INITIATES THE MOVE,

And Proposes That the Public Be Enlightened Through Newspapers and Magazines on the Relations of Roads and Employes — Engineers Talk of Suing for Money Due on Alleged Disregard of an Arbitration Decision — A Triumph for Cutters.

TOLEDO, April 6.—Surprising developments in the Ann Arbor case are continuinually coming to light and more may be anticipated. The Ann Arbor officials have sent letters to the general managers of the twelve connecting railroads here asking them to enlighten the public mind on the relations between railroad managements and union employes through the press and the best magazines of the country. The Ann Arbor also asks that the various roads contribute toward a fund to defray the expenses of keeping the different phases of the controversy before the public for the next six months.

Chairman Taylor, of the Lake Shore local grievance committee, said yesterday: "This strike is still on and will not be called off. We can stick it out for sixty days more, and then, if there is no change, we will adopt another course. It has not yet been shown whether this strike is legal or not by the court, and we will wait for the decision of the supreme court. We may also bring suit for $40,000, which is a rough estimate of the amount due us. That amount represents the difference between the arbitrators' scale which Mr. Ashley agreed to pay us two years ago and the rate he really did pay us.

Says the Road Is Unsafe.

"Mr. Ashley has chosen to bring this matter into the courts, and I think we can make it interesting for him. Ashley needs our men more than they need the positions. I know positively that he is not running his road (as he claims) 50 per cent. better than he ever did before. The road is not safe to run over, as it is now spoiled. Of course it is hard to make people believe this when I say it, as they claim I am sore and prejudiced. The Ashleys will be the losers in the long run. None of the men had gone back, nor will they do so. We are drawing almost an equivalent to our salaries, and although the clause in our brotherhood stipulates that we only receive pay for one month there is an amendment to it of which the public is ignorant. That will be easy, as we have a good cause."

Must Complain as Individuals.

NEW YORK, April 6.—The temporary injunction restraining the United Garment Cutters from issuing boycott circulars or in any way injuring the trade of the manufacturers was dissolved yesterday by Judge Barrett, a ruling which was a victory for the Garment Workers, on the ground that the form of the action was fatal. He said there was no common or joint interest that would justify the manufacturers in joining in one suit. If they had any standing in court at all they would have to bring individual actions. Lawyer Johnson said he would at once begin individual actions.

GOOD FREAK FOR A MUSEUM.

A 10-Year-Old Girl Who Goes Into the Expert Burglary Line.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., April 6.—Tiny Reunick, aged 10 years, was arrested at midnight Sunday in the act of breaking into a safe in the Henry Wahl store, in the suburb of this city. Patrolman Allen's attention was attracted by sounds of pounding in the store, and breaking open the front door he was greatly surprised to find instead of a burglar a young girl standing in front of the safe holding a hammer with which she had been attempting to break the combination knob.

Her Tools Somewhat Crude.

A glance about the store revealed the fact that the girl had been operating on the cash drawer with a can-opener. The child cried and begged the officer to let her go, as she had never done anything of the kind before. Patrolman Allen took the child to the home of her parents, and Tuesday a warrant was served. The district attorney asked that the child be held to the grand jury.

Dedicating the Mormon Temple.

SALT LAKE CITY, April 6.—Twenty-five thousand strangers are in the city to participate in the dedicatory ceremonies of the Mormon temple which began today and continue for a week. Six thousand invitations were issued to prominent citizens and their families to inspect the beautiful structure, which is the finest and most costly church building in America.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., April 6.—The steamer Los Angeles has arrived here. She picked up the captain's boat of the ill-fated ship King James. The saved were Captain Mueller; Edward Flint, seaman, and John Spevey, apprentice.

DENVER, April 6.—Antone Woode, the 11-year-old boy murderer who killed Joe Smith for his watch and gun was yesterday sentenced to twenty-five years in the penitentiary at hard labor. The judge said he wished he could send him to the reform school, but he could not under the law of the state.

PRESSURE ON PRESIDENT M'LEOD.

Miners and Dealers Don't Like the Idea of His Retirement.

PHILADELPHIA, April 6.—It is reported in financial circles here that great pressure is being brought to bear on President McLeod to withdraw his resignation and continue in control of the operating department of the Reading railway. Mr. McLeod has, it is understood, taken the matter under advisement, although he would say nothing.

Would Be Bad for the Coal Trade.

It is believed McLeod's retirement from the Reading railway will have a serious effect upon the anthracite coal trade. His policy, it is also said, had been such as to increase the profits to both miners and dealers, and these classes regard his retirement as a signal for lack of cohesion among all concerned in maintaining prices at a uniform level.

Successful Always

Why is Cubeb Cough Cure called the one minute remedy? The following from Harry Elliott, Vice-President of the State Insurance Company, Des Moines, explains his first experience. His wife recently became so hoarse from a severe cold she could not speak above a whisper. One dose of the Cubeb Cough Cure afforded great relief, and a few doses removed the hoarseness entirely. He also says his children have never been so free from coughs and colds as they have since he keeps Cubeb Cough Cure in the house. For sale by H. E. Donaldson, Druggist.

KRAUSE'S HEADACHE CAPSULES—Warranted.

The term "tabby cat" is derived from Alsab, a famous street in Bagdad inhabited by the manufacturers of silken stuff called atlbi or taffeta. This stuff is woven with waved markings of watered silk resembling a tabby cat's coat.

Men of sense often learn from their enemies. It is from their foes—not their friends—that cities learn the lesson of building high walls and ships of war, and this lesson saves their children, their homes and their properties.—Aristophanes.

HOT SPRINGS SKIN SOAP not only prevents all skin disorders, but is excellent for the toilet and nursery. H. E. Donaldson.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria.
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria.
When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria.
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

The other day a man said: "I'm as bilious as I can be." His friend replied: Take DeWitt's Little Early Risers, these little pills cured me." D. S. Horton.

Who Says Rheumatism Can Not Be Cured

My wife was confined to her bed for over two months with a very severe attack of rheumatism. We could get nothing that would afford her any relief, and as a last resort gave Chamberlain's Pain Balm a trial. To our great surprise she began to improve after the first application, and by using it regulary she was soon able to get up and attend to her house work. E. H. Johnson, of C. J. Knutson & Co., Kensigon, Minn. 50 cent bottles for sale by W. D. Duffin, Druggist.

A Famous Gold Nugget.

On the 18th of August, 1866, a monster piece of gold was taken from the Monumental mine, near Sierra Buttes. This giant nugget weighed 1,596 troy ounces and was estimated to be worth $30,000. The mine was owned by William A. Farrish & Co. The nugget was afterward sold to R. B. Woodward of San Francisco, for $21,636.62, and was placed on exhibition at the famous Woodward gardens.—St. Louis Republic.

The importance of small things should not be overlooked. Is a pill for sick headache important? Is a pill for constipation important? Is a pill for biliousness important? Then DeWitt's Early Risers are important. They are small. D. S. Horton, druggist.

It is Good.

The more Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is used the better it is liked. We know of no other remedy that always gives satisfaction. It is good when your first catch cold. It is good when you cough is seated and your lungs are sore. It is good in any kind of a cough. We have sold twenty-five dozen of it and every bottle has given satisfacion. Stedman & Friedman, druggists, Minnesota Lake, Minn. 50 cent bottles for sale by W. D. Duffin, Druggist.

You have time to read, time to think, but no time to be sick. Read about De Witt's Little Early Risers and you will think it is better to take these little pills than to suffer from sick headache or constipation. D. S. Horton, druggist.

CUBEB COUGH CURE—ONE MINUTE

DeWitt's Hazel Salve causes wounds to heal rapidly, purifies and cleanses obstinate sores and is a well known cure for piles. D. S. Horton

NORMAN LICHTY, Des Moines, Iowa.

Dear Sir:—A box of Headache Capsules were handed to me and I have used them with perfect success. They cannot be recommended too highly. Could not possibly do without them in my house. I recommend to sufferers with this common though terrible complaint.

J. ENSING, Kalamazoo, Mich.

"There is a salve for every wound." We refer to DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve, cures burns, bruises, cuts, indolent sores, as a local application in the nostrils it cures catarrh, and always cures piles. D. S. Horton

Bilious Colic Prevented.

Persons who are subject to attacks of bilious colic can almost invariably tell by their feelings, when to expect an attack. If Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhœa Remedy is taken as soon as these symptoms appear, it should always keep the Remedy at hand, ready for immediate use when needed. Two or three doses of it at the right time will save them much suffering. For sale by W. D. Duffin.

It is a truth in medicine that the smallest dose that performs a cure is the best. DeWitt's Little Early Risers are the smallest pills, will perform the cure, and are the best. D. S. Horton

Don't Be Afraid.

A TERRIBLE ACCIDENT!

A DREARY NIGHT OF TERRIBLE AGONY.

A young man of about eighteen years, named Louis Schultz, residing near Nelson, took a special stock train going east from Sterling about eight o'clock last night, hoping to jump off at his home, but the speed of the train was too great, so he clung to the car until he reached an up-grade two miles east of Dixon, when, after a fearful ride, he took the desperate chances of a leap from the car. It is the old, old story, with additional horrors. He was caught under the wheels and one foot was terribly crushed; and there he was forced to lie all that dreary, cold night, the wind blowing a gale, out on the bleak prairie, suffering the terrible pain that must result from a crushed and mangled foot, and no hope for relief until darkness disappeared. Train after train passed by—over his head, it may be said—with merry crowds of passengers in the gaily lighted coaches, but no possible relief to the suffering boy. It was a terrible night, and the welcome arrival of a gang of section hands was indeed a relief. They brought him to Dixon on a hand-car and placed him under proper care. Drs Wynn and Paine found it necessary this afternoon to amputate his limb.

See the grand street parade at noon tomorrow.

An Entertainment Worthy of the Age.

The managers of the Chicago Theatres intend to provide plenty of attractions for the hordes of visitors that will pour into the city for the next six months to view the wonders of earth at Jackson Park.

The unfortunate experiences of the Philadelphia and Paris managers during the terms of the World's Fairs in those cities seem to have had a stimulating rather than a deterrant effect on the men who guide the fortunes of Chicago's houses, and there is unshaken confidence that the approaching season will be phenomenal.

Every class of amusement, from the cheap and nasty exhibit of the dime museum to the dazzling splendor of the spectacle, will find its patrons in the cosmopolitan throng that is coming to the World's Fair City.

Abbey, Schoeffel & Grau, the renowned triumvirate of Grand Opera impressarios, are preparing to put a spectacle on the vast stage of the Auditorium that will attract and astonish theatre-goers from one end of the country to the other. Only a few details are as yet known about the piece, but these are sufficient to stamp it as the most colossal, unique and magnificent work of the kind known to the modern stage.

Plans for its construction were laid a year and a half ago under the guidance of Imre Kiralfy, whose successful management of spectacular productions has gained him international fame.

It comprises a prologue and thirty tableaux, bears the title "America," and has for its subject the rise and progress of this country from the time of Columbus' landing to the present.

Dialogue will be used to some extent, but will be subordinate to the other features. The scenes, which are described as enchantingly beautiful, were painted in Paris by the corps of famous artists connected with the Grand Opera House.

Antonio Venanza, a celebrated Italian composer, wrote the entire musical score, and is at present in Chicago directing the preliminary rehearsals of this particular department.

The costumes, equsite in design and texture, were made in London, Paris and New York, and cost a fortune alone; cost in fact, does not seem to have been a consideration in the creation of this gigantic scheme. One hundred and twenty thousand dollars will have been the outlay before the curtain rises on the opening night, and heaven only knows what the expense will be thereafter. Seven hundred persons have already signed contracts to appear in the piece. The ballet, numbering two hundred, is to be a vision of loveliness—a ballet worthy the name—fresh from Vienna, Milan and Paris, where the delightful thing was born, and where it now exists in its prime. Luigia Cerale, of the Hof Theatre, Vienna, will be the premiere dancer. Others of no less celebrity, from the other side of the Atlantic will assist her. The "Coryphees," who arrived with the chorus from Europe the other day, are a lot of beauties, representing nearly every nation in Europe, principally Italy and France. The principal dramatic and vocal parts will be assumed by Louise Beaudet, Lottie Gilman, Miss Russel, Miss Malcomb, Herr Barnemann and Signors Brighenti, Otavi, Biagirelli and Campana.

The first performance is announced for April 17, and the season will continue for six months following that date.

—The American edition of "The Review of Reviews" has been conducted from the commencement of its publication by practical newspaper men, and they have made it an indispensible auxiliary to every editor's library. It is truly a great national publication in a field not occupied by others. With the April number it opens its third year with a most promising outlook, having in two brief years reached a success unprecedented. Its volumes contain a concise though complete history of all that is worth remembering in current thought, literature, events and occurrences of historic interest the world over, copiously illustrated with portraits of the leading men and women of the time; some of the best biographical and character sketches of whom have appeared in the pages of this review. In the April number, after a record of the progress of the world and current events carefully prepared, the following articles are interestingly treated at considerable length and fully illustrated: "Mr. Cleveland's Cabinet;" "The Boyhood of Grover Cleveland;" "The World's First Parliament of Religions in Sept., 1893, at Chicago;" "Dress Reform at the World's Fair;" and "The Quaker Spiritualist Revival in Russia." Then follows some sixty pages of extracts from the leading articles in current literature and journalism; reviews of new books, and the contents and index of the current American and foreign Reviews and Magazines. The magazine costs but $2.50 a year, and is worth twice the money.
